Citizens Review Board for Children
Fiscal Year 2014 – First Quarter Report

Our Mission

Volunteer reviewers monitor child welfare systems and review cases, make findings and recommendations, and advocate improving the administration of the system and the management of individual cases. As a result, children will be safe; be placed in stable, permanent living arrangements without undue delay; enjoy continuity of relationships; and have the opportunity to develop to their full potential.

Our Vision

The child welfare community, General Assembly, other key decision-makers, and the public will look to the Citizens Review Board for Children for objective reports on vital child welfare programs and for consistent monitoring of safeguards for children. The State of Maryland will investigate child maltreatment allegations thoroughly, protect children from abuse and neglect, give families the help they need to stay intact, place children in out-of-home care only when necessary, and provide placements that consider all the child's needs. Casework will combine effective family services with expeditious permanent placement of children.

Baltimore City Panel Findings and Recommendations

1. Baltimore City panel finds there is a breakdown with receiving case records and receiving incomplete case records. The panel recommends receiving all case activity 1 year prior to panel review.
2. Baltimore City panel finds there is a lack of supporting documentation pertaining to engaging paternal family members, CPS and criminal background checks of other family and household members within the CPS case files. The panel recommends an increased effort in placing supportive documentation pertaining to paternal family members engagement, and CPS and criminal background checks in the case records.

3. Baltimore City panel finds there is a lack of supportive documentation of services to the family in the case records. The panel recommends an increased effort to document all services provided to the child and family.
4. Baltimore City panel finds there is a lack of follow-up from the agency about the panel's concerns with issues pertaining to high-risk cases. The panel recommends an increased effort to appropriately follow-up in regards to high-risk case concerns.
5. Baltimore City panel finds that they are receiving 4 to 5 egregious safety cases a year. The panel suggests this may be contributed to children being sent back home once minimal parent compliance is adhered to, and inappropriate monitoring once the children are reunited. The panel recommends higher parent compliance before returning children home, and closer monitoring once the child is returned home.
6. Baltimore City panel has educational concerns with children in out-of-home care utilizing services at the "Crooked Lives Made Straight Christian Academy" in Philadelphia, PA. The panels concerns are centered on their challenges with receiving additional information about how Baltimore City's out-of-home placement youth are benefitting from this service. The panel recommends an increased effort to supply the panel with additional information about this educational service provider.
7. Baltimore City panel recommends that CRBC be given re-entry cases to review.

CRBC and Anne Arundel County panel recommends an increased effort to supply appropriate cases for panel review.

Alternative Response

Alternative Response is a new approach in the state of Maryland for managing low risk reports of child abuse and neglect that will result in safer kids, stronger families and significantly fewer recurrences. As of July 1, 2013 Alternative Response was implemented in 5 counties in Western Maryland. Those counties include Allegany, Frederick, Garrett, Montgomery, and Washington. The first case assigned to Alternative Response was in Frederick County.

Allegany County had 54 (43%) out of 125 screened-in cases sent to Alternative Response for the First Quarter of FY14.

CRBC Jurisdiction Recommendations

- All jurisdictions should include the paternal family members as possible resources for all children who are in out-of-home care.
- All jurisdictions should include the paternal family members as possible resources for all Child Protection Service investigations.
- All jurisdictions are required to bring case records and/or supportive documentation to all CRBC case reviews.

CRBC Activities (July 1st thru September 30th, 2013)

- On July 9th and August 13th, CRBC's leadership attended the Alternative Response Council Teleconference Meetings. The primary focus of the July meeting was the first phase, including Frederick County assigning the first case to Alternative Response.
- On July 26, CRBC held Baltimore City Circuit Meeting; facilitated by Michele Foster, Staff Assistant. The presenters included Baltimore City DSS staff members Steven Youngblood, LCSW-C, Unit Manager; Charlene Steward, MSW, Educational Specialist; Angela Smith, MSW, Ready By 21 Specialist; Ms. Armstrong, Ready By 21 Supervisor. Pertinent information shared included new changes with the Tuition Waiver per HB1012 such as, Adopted and Guardianship children 13 years and older and their siblings (in the same home) are eligible for Tuition Waiver. These children are eligible up to the age of 25 years old. The Tuition Waiver does not affect any other financial support i.e., grants or scholarships. An obvious gap in providing these services is how to inform those children who have aged out of the foster care system.

In addition, the Education and Training Voucher's (ETV) can be awarded up to $5000 for current foster care, kinship, and you adopted after the age of 16 years old. One challenge with Baltimore City getting this information to eligible children is getting the youth to attend the Educational Workshops held in the month of July.

- On August 10, 2013 CRBC program officially moved from 4201 Patterson Avenue, Baltimore, Maryland 21215 to its new location at 1100 Eastern Boulevard, Essex, Maryland 21221.
- On September 21st CRBC's staff members participated in the Annual Family Tree's Family Fair and Walk. In addition, CRBC staff maintained an informational table in its efforts to boost recruitment.
