Dear Mr. White:

Enclosed is a copy of a recently completed study by the Maryland Commission on the Status of Women for your perusal. This report, entitled "Women on Boards and Commissions in the State of Maryland", the most comprehensive listing including the names of women appointees in the entire state, was prepared in an effort to bring about an awareness of the fact that many women do sit on boards and commissions in advisory and decision making positions, as well as to encourage the appointment of more women.

While the total number of women serving on state boards and commissions has increased noticeably over the past two years, from 263 out of 1,732 in 1974 to 387 out of 2,298 in 1976, the percentage of increase is only 2%. Women now occupy 17% of the total positions compared to 15% in 1974.

In order to accelerate the progress that has already been made and to further increase the number of women in all categories, the Maryland Commission on the Status of Women maintains a computerized listing of women and their qualifications and interests which is available to public officials, state department secretaries, the Governor, and other officials who seek suggestions and/or recommendations.

Sincerely,

Shoshana S. Cardin

MARYLAND COMMISSION ON THE STATUS OF WOMEN

WOMEN APPOINTEES

STATE OF MARYLAND - BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS

In January 1974 the Maryland Commission on the Status of Women prepared its first profile of the number of women serving on state boards and commissions. Of the 1,732 persons then serving, 263 were women, 15% of the total.

The second profile completed in January 1976, two years later, shows 387 women among the 2,298 persons. Women now occupy 17% of the positions.

While the number of women has increased noticeably, the total number of appointees has also increased. Thus, the percentage increase of women was only 2%.

In reflecting on the total picture, it must be noted that while some departments have appointed women where there were none previously, other departments show a decrease.*

The Maryland Commission on the Status of Women will continue to supply the names of qualified women who are willing to serve in an effort to perpetuate the progress that has been made thus far and to increase further the number of women in all categories.

* Copies of this report will be sent to the cabinet secretaries in an effort to assist them in their recommendations and selections.

1. The first part of the report discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the integrity of the financial system and for the ability to detect and prevent fraud. The report also notes that accurate records are necessary for the preparation of financial statements and for the calculation of taxes.

2. The second part of the report discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the integrity of the financial system and for the ability to detect and prevent fraud. The report also notes that accurate records are necessary for the preparation of financial statements and for the calculation of taxes.

3. The third part of the report discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the integrity of the financial system and for the ability to detect and prevent fraud. The report also notes that accurate records are necessary for the preparation of financial statements and for the calculation of taxes.

4. The fourth part of the report discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the integrity of the financial system and for the ability to detect and prevent fraud. The report also notes that accurate records are necessary for the preparation of financial statements and for the calculation of taxes.

5. The fifth part of the report discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the integrity of the financial system and for the ability to detect and prevent fraud. The report also notes that accurate records are necessary for the preparation of financial statements and for the calculation of taxes.

6. The sixth part of the report discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the integrity of the financial system and for the ability to detect and prevent fraud. The report also notes that accurate records are necessary for the preparation of financial statements and for the calculation of taxes.

7. The seventh part of the report discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the integrity of the financial system and for the ability to detect and prevent fraud. The report also notes that accurate records are necessary for the preparation of financial statements and for the calculation of taxes.

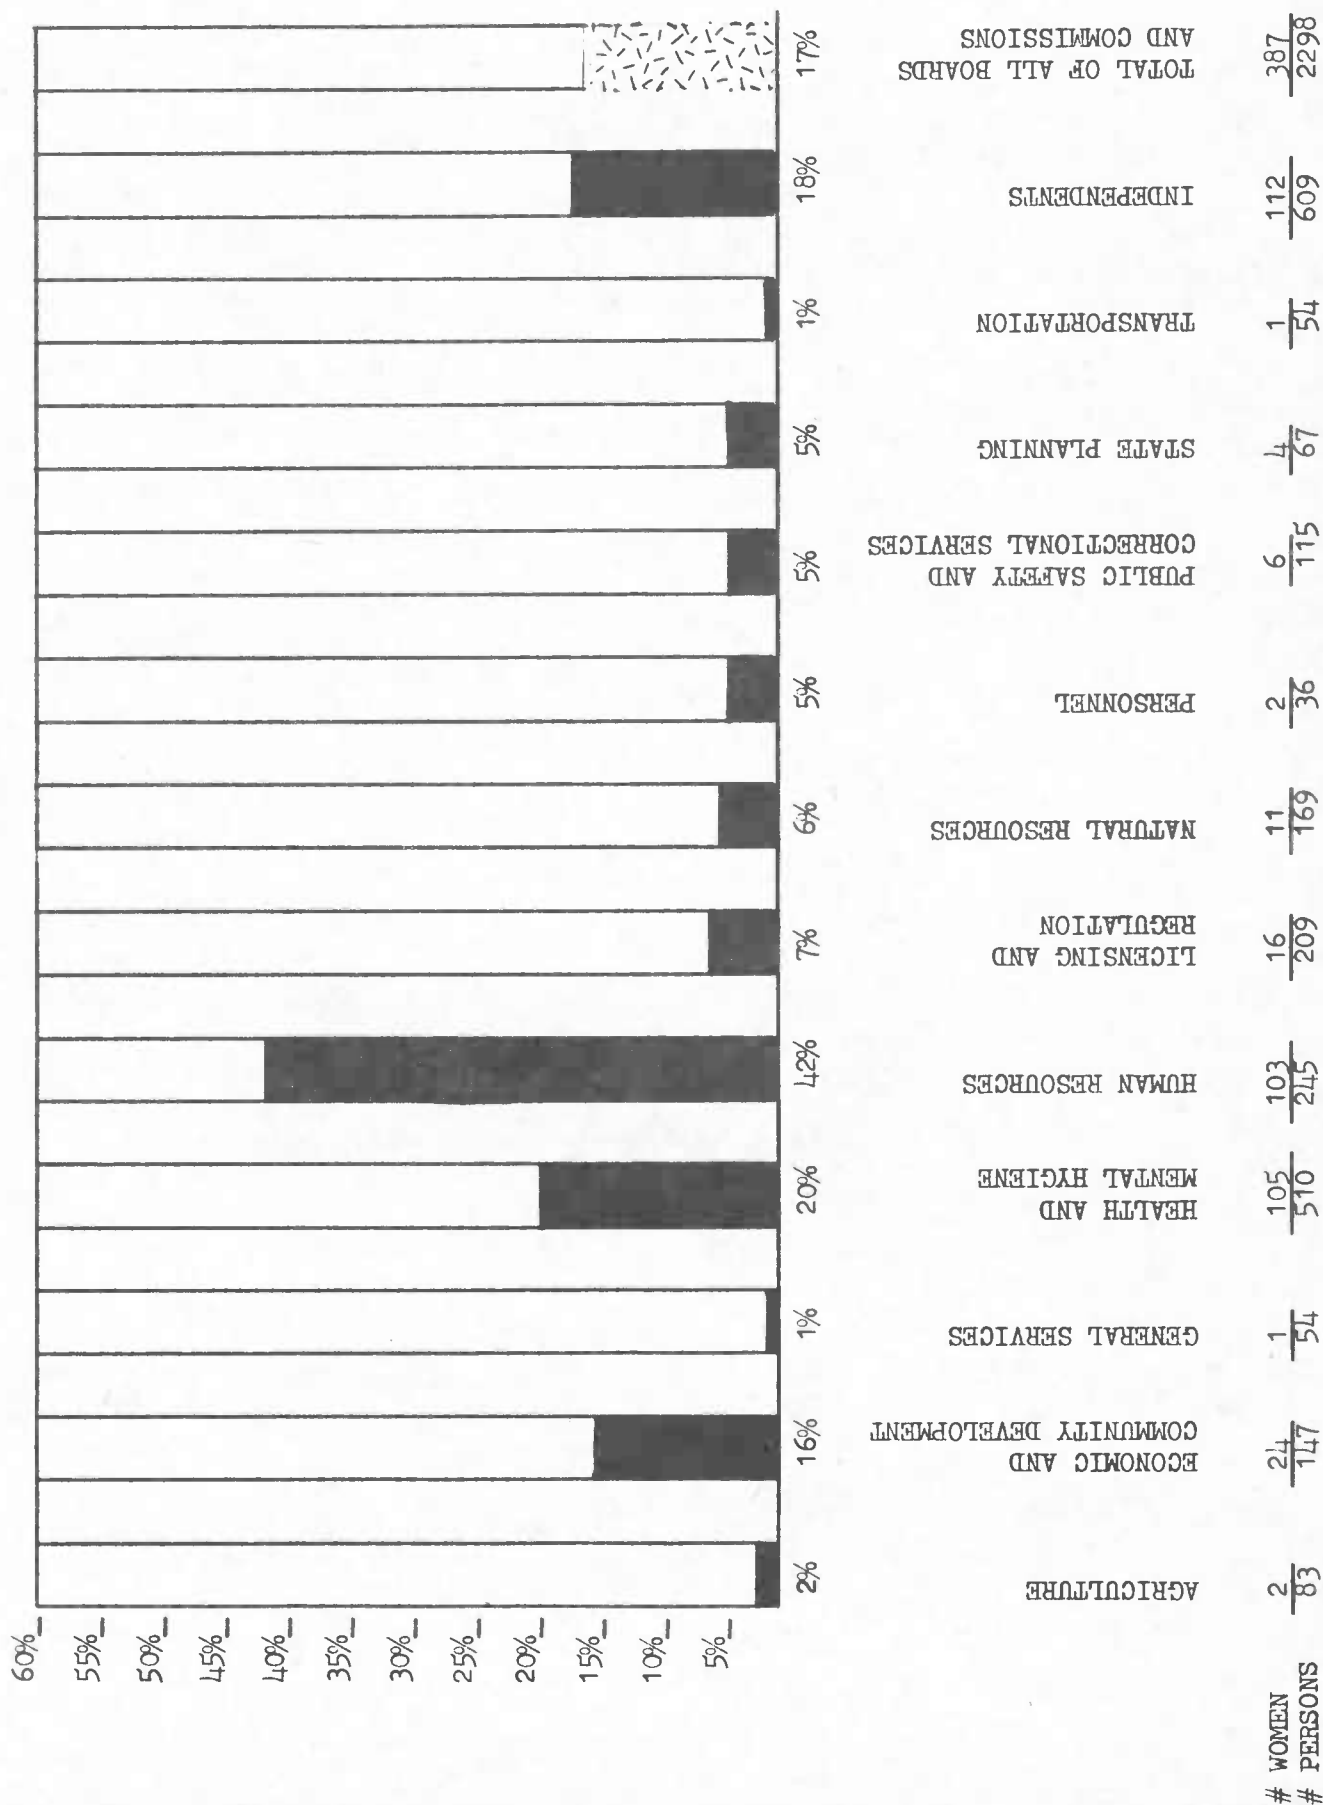

8. The eighth part of the report discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the integrity of the financial system and for the ability to detect and prevent fraud. The report also notes that accurate records are necessary for the preparation of financial statements and for the calculation of taxes.

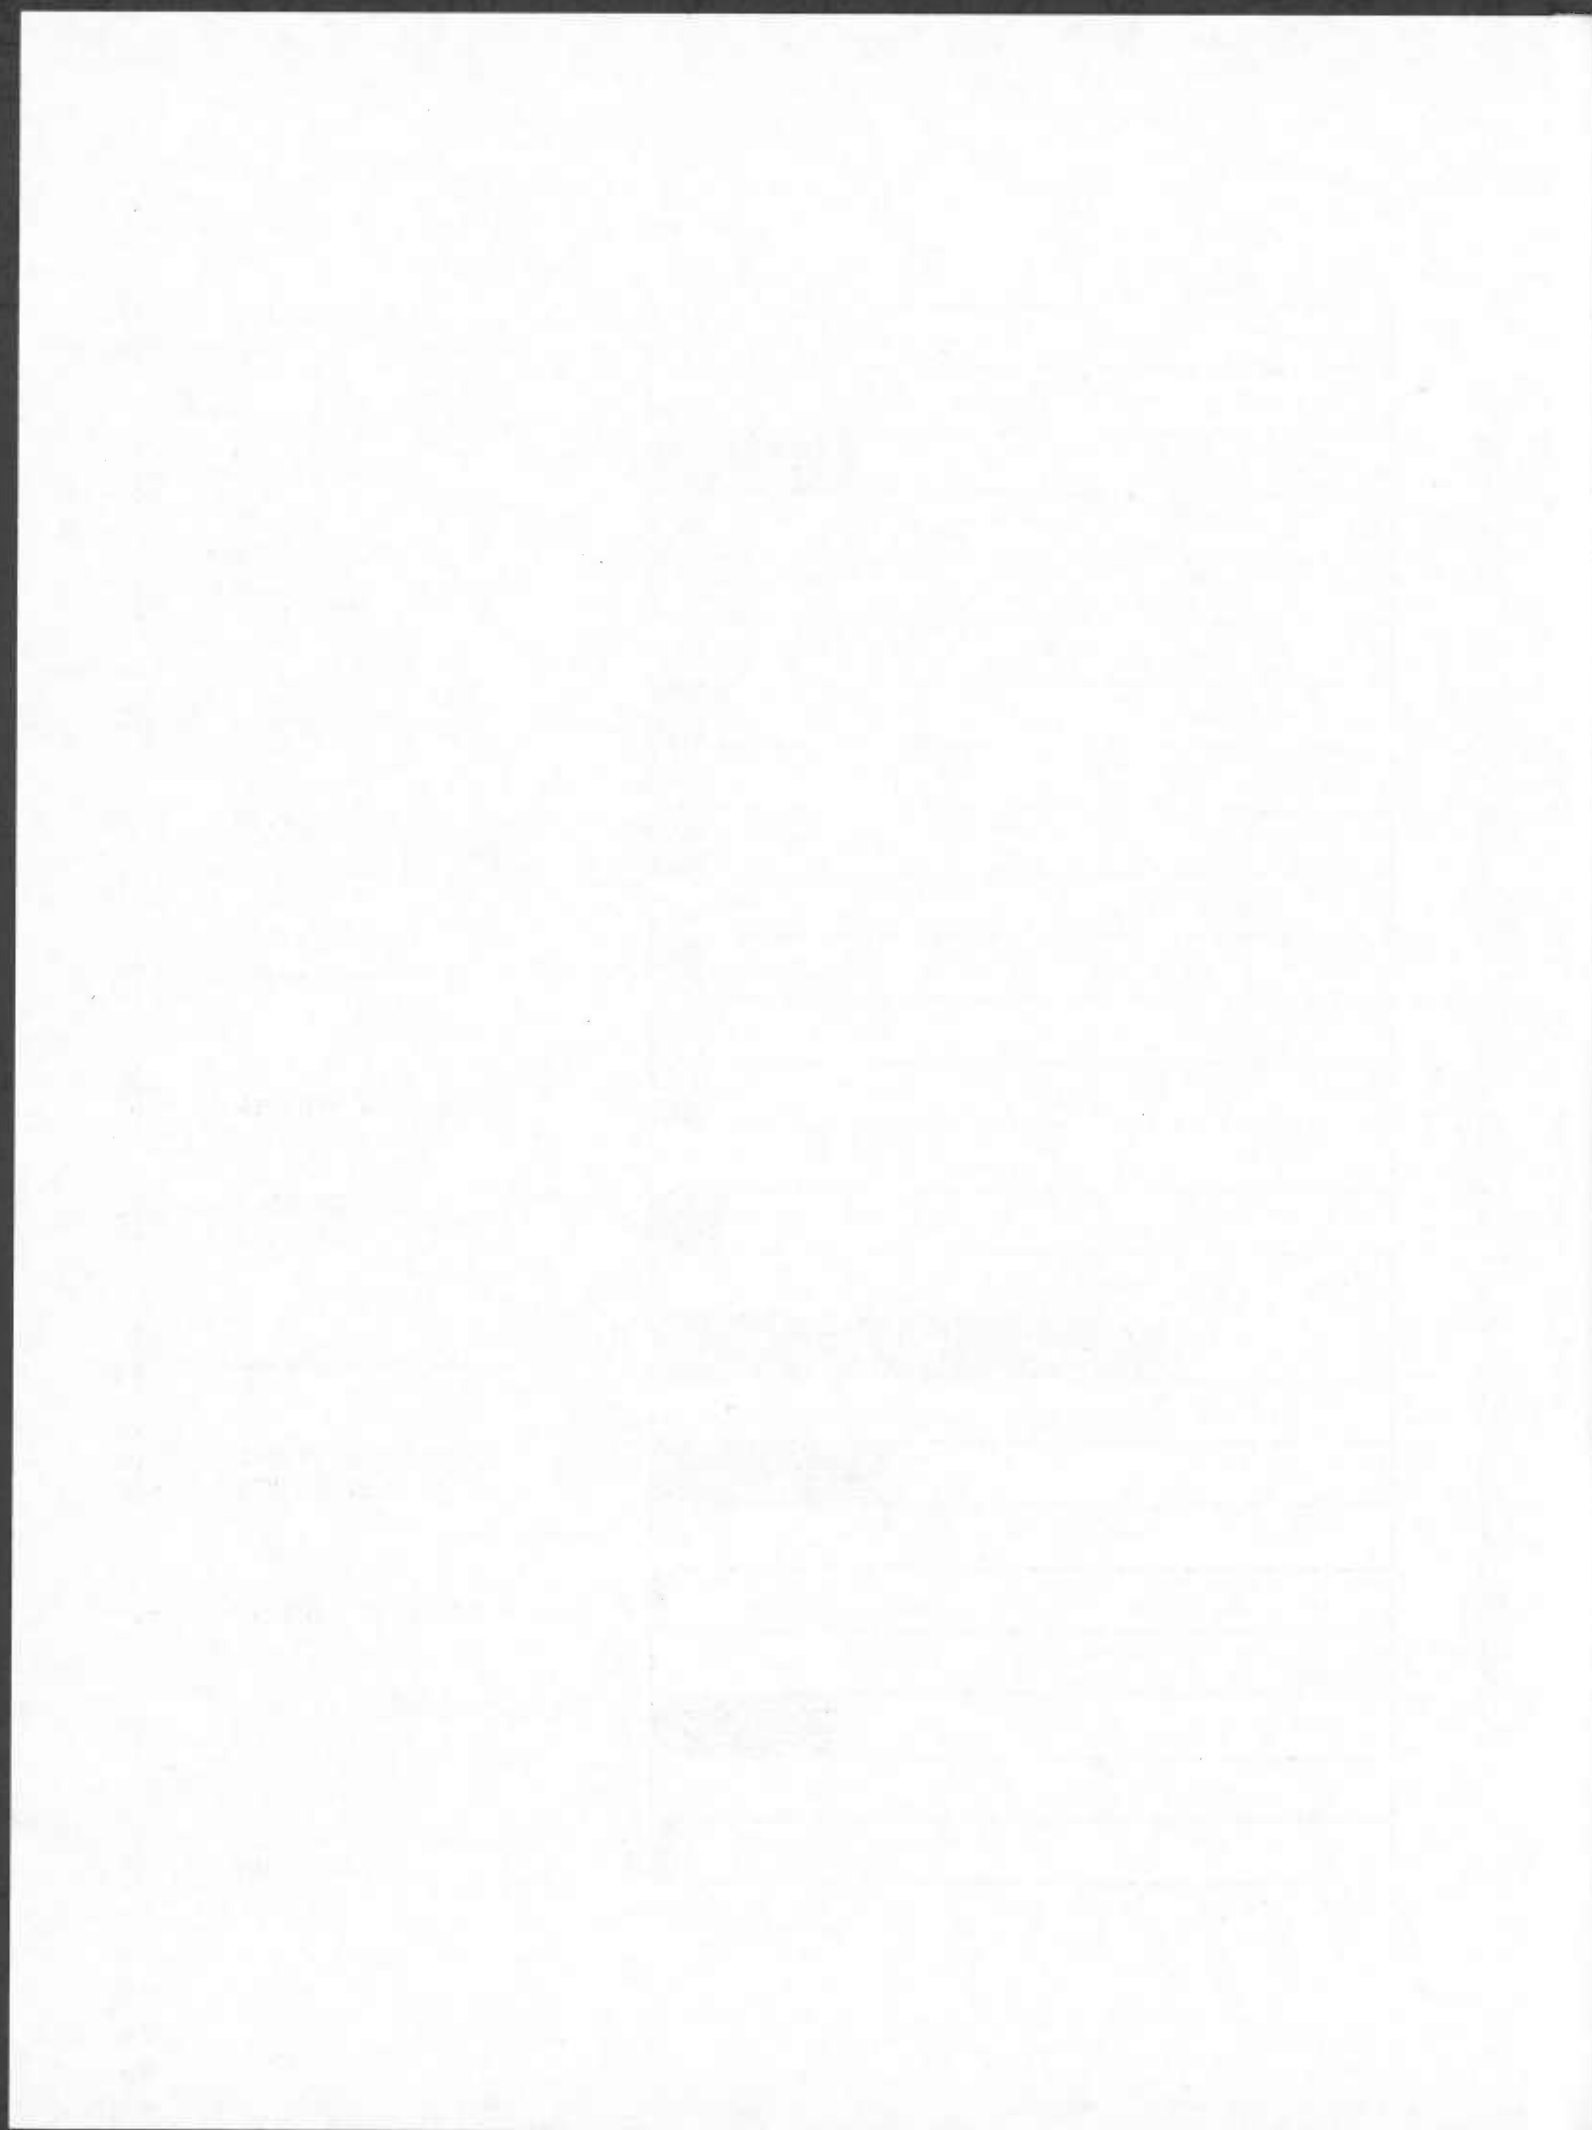

9. The ninth part of the report discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the integrity of the financial system and for the ability to detect and prevent fraud. The report also notes that accurate records are necessary for the preparation of financial statements and for the calculation of taxes.

10. The tenth part of the report discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the integrity of the financial system and for the ability to detect and prevent fraud. The report also notes that accurate records are necessary for the preparation of financial statements and for the calculation of taxes.
