EMERGENCY FOOD ASSISTANCE

For residents currently experiencing a food deficit, PGCDSS hosts Mission Nutrition, a community based mobile food market. A list of distribution dates and locations can be found online at

<https://www.princegeorgescountymd.gov/DocumentCenter/View/24277/2019-Mission-Nutrition-Dates-->

Locations. The Capital Area Food Bank (CAFB) also operates community marketplaces and distribution details can be found online at <https://www.capitalareafoodbank.org/community-marketplaces-2/>. Finally, the CAFB acts as a clearinghouse for the distribution of donated food in the Washington metropolitan area and more than 60 County based pantries participate in the program. Food is provided by those pantries to eligible individuals and families free of charge and if you need assistance locating a pantry near your home, please contact 311.
